DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action.

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-12,14-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Julius in view of Huang et al. Julius discloses in figure 1 a dispenser for tissue having a tissue dispensing aperture 9 of a 'Y' type shape at its ends and has a friction feature to provide a leading edge to a following tissue. Note also the manipulating opening 8 to receive a user's fingers and the reclosable lid 5 with a locking means 12. To provide Julius' openings for a normally closed flap would be obvious in view of the teachings of Haung's use of the flap 20 having the normally closed ends 52 in a normally closed state to effect a sealing of pre-moistened tissues. Note also the 'hinged' ends 34 of the flap and the use of the waved (undulant) form of the closed ends of the flap.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Julius in view of Huang et al. as applied to claims 1-12,14-27 above, and further in view of Zaidman. Julius' dispenser does not disclose a depressible locking member. However, Zaidman discloses a dispenser having a depressible lock member. To provide Julius' dispenser with a depressible locking member would be obvious in view of the teachings of Zaidman's use of the depressible locking member 20 so as to provide a ready releasable means for the lid.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 01/13/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, both patents have claims directed to openings for wet wipe dispensers, modifying one opening in view of the teachings of another opening would be obvious to one skilled in the art.

The claims as written do not define over the prior art cited in the rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
